Dear Parents, Carers and Guardians,

We have taken the decision to move to remote learning today due to the very high winds that are forecast for later this morning and into the afternoon. The weather warning has been updated overnight and a red warning is now in place very close to Bletchley. We consider that there is an unacceptable risk for students walking to and from school and we are worried that our open site could be dangerous when moving between lessons.

We are very sorry for the late nature of this decision and would be grateful if you could share this with as many Lord Grey parents and students as possible.

Students will be able to access their learning through the virtual classroom by following the link <https://sites.google.com/tovelearning.org.uk/lq-virtual-school/home>. Teachers will be working from home ensuring that learning materials are ready for use.

Please take care during this period of extreme weather and we will see the students again after the half-term break.

Yours sincerely

Samantha Satyanadhan and
Associate Principal

Jim Parker
